Course Description

This course examines the history of warfare from prehistory to the present. The emphasis is on the relationship between warfare and the broader development of human societies and course of human history in political, social, and economic spheres. A secondary emphasis is on reciprocating innovation and warfare. Each week will, broadly speaking, cover chronological developments in the history of war, and focus on one or more themes. Each class will provide case studies that explore these themes, and engage with questions posed at the beginning of the week.

Course Objectives/Learning Outcomes

In addition to developing a broad understanding of the historical and contemporary relationship between war and society, students will be introduced to the academic study of history and historical method. They will also learn broadly valuable analytical and communication skills applicable to many other endeavours.
Methods of Evaluation

Midterm: October 18, 2019 (25%), closed book.

Article Review: November 22, 2019 (40%)

Final Exam: Scheduled by the registrar (35%), closed book.

The Midterm examination will be written in class on October 18, 2019. It will consist of identification questions and short answer questions. More information will be provided by the instructor in class and on D2L.

Article Review: For this assignment students will summarize and critically analyze an academic article from a list provided by the instructor, or of their own choosing from a peer reviewed academic journal (in consultation with the instructor). The articles can be accessed through the university’s library catalogue. The review should be approximately 1,000 words in length. Late assignments will be penalized up to a third of a grade/day. Extensions may be granted in consultation with the instructor. More information will be provided in class and on D2L.

The Final examination will consist of identification questions and short answer questions. The exam will not be cumulative, and will only cover material discussed after the midterm. This exam is scheduled by the registrar.

Writing:
All written assignments and written exam responses are assessed partly on writing skills. Writing skills include surface correctness (grammar, punctuation, sentence structure, etc.) and general clarity and organization. Research papers must be properly referenced.

Red Box Policy:
Essays and other assignments may be dropped into the red box located outside of the History Department office (Social Sciences, Room 656). Please include the following information on your assignment: 1) course name and number, 2) instructor, 3) your name, and 4) your student number. Assignments received after 4:00 p.m. are date stamped the next business day. We do not time stamp any papers. Please do not bring your paper into the office to be stamped. The box is emptied at 4:00 p.m. Monday to Friday.

Plagiarism:
Plagiarism occurs when one submits or presents one’s work in a course, or ideas and/or passages in a written piece of work, as if it were one’s own work done expressly for that particular course, when, in fact, it is not. As noted in The History Student’s Handbook https://hist.ucalgary.ca/sites/hist.ucalgary.ca/files/history-students-handbook-2019.pdf

Plagiarism may take several forms:
- Failing to cite sources properly
- Submitting borrowed, purchased, and/or ghostwritten papers
- Submitting one's own work for more than one course without the permission of the instructor(s) involved
- Extensive paraphrasing of one or a few sources, even when referenced properly, unless the essay is a critical analysis of those works
- Using notes does not justify the sustained presentation of another author’s language and ideas as one’s own

Plagiarism is a serious academic offence and written work that appears to contain plagiarized passages will not be graded. All such work is reported to the Faculty of Arts’ associate deans of students who will apply the penalties specified in the University of Calgary Calendar, Section K. Copyright:
Instructors in all University of Calgary courses strictly adhere to the Copyright Act regulations and educational exceptions permitted by the Act for both print and digital course material. No copyrighted material may be placed on course D2L or web sites without the prior permission of the copyright holders. In some cases, you may be required to purchase a print course pack from the University of Calgary bookstore or consult books on reserve at the library.
