Introduction to Military History
Summer, 2023

Instructor:  Mr. Takawira Chatambudza
Email: takawira.chatambudza@ugalgary.ca
Office Hours: TBA
Office Location: Social Science 637
Class Times: Tuesday and Thursdays, 9:00 – 11:45 am
Class Location: SA 121
Course Delivery: In person

Description
This course introduces students to the history of warfare from earliest times to the present. It focuses on the interaction between war and society including technological, economic, political, cultural and social factors. Lectures focus on selected examples of warfare from different parts of the world paying attention to war leadership, strategies, tactics, operations, weapons and battles. Adopting a global perspective, the course looks at developments in the Americas, Europe, the Middle East, Africa and Asia.

Learning Outcomes
By the end of the course, students should be expected to:
1. Demonstrate a basic understanding of fundamental developments and changes in the history of warfare.
2. Write a short critical assessment of a scholarly work in the field of military history.

Required Texts for Purchase

MID-TERM TEST: This test will be completed in class. The date is 27 July. The entire class time for that day will be devoted to writing the test. It will comprise a series of short answer questions relating to the information presented during lectures and contained in the course textbook up to and including the week of July 24-28.

ARTICLE REVIEW: This written assignment will summarize and critically assess an academic journal article. The article will be selected from a list posted on D2L and can be accessed via the University of Calgary library website. The review will be around 1000 words long. If there are any questions about the review, please ask in class or office hours or email the instructor. Guidelines for the review (expectations, requirements, and a list of acceptable journal articles) will be posted on D2L. This is not a “group assignment” and students are expected to do their own work. The article review will require students to find a scholarly journal article via the University of Calgary Library website (such as by using JSTOR). The article review is due on 21 July at 11:59 pm and will be submitted via D2L Dropbox.

FINAL EXAM: The final exam to be scheduled by the registrar’s office will be based on all the topics covered from the beginning to the end of the course. The exam schedule will be posted later in the semester. The questions will involve analyzing information presented during lectures and contained in the course textbook. Each question will be broad requiring students to write an essay mobilizing information from a variety of lectures and textbook chapters. Students will be required to answer 3 questions. Section A with its 2 questions is compulsory and students must choose one question from Section B out of a choice of 4 questions. The exam is for 3 hours.
Grading Policy
All submissions will be graded based on writing, content and analysis. All student work will receive percentage grades.

Late submissions will not be accepted without prior approval of the course instructor. Students are encouraged to email the instructor if there is a problem with meeting a deadline. Extensions can be negotiated.

Learning Technologies Requirements
There is a D2L site for this course which contains required readings and other relevant class resources and materials (see d2L.ucalgary.ca). To successfully engage in their learning experiences at the University of Calgary, students in this course will need reliable access to the following technology: A computer with a supported operating system; a current and updated web browser; current antivirus and/or firewall software enabled; broadband internet connection.

Please Note: Students are expected to reach the grade range to receive that letter grade (ie. to receive an A- a student will have earned an 80 or 3.7 in the course). Assume that there will be no rounding up unless a faculty member announces otherwise.

Program Advising and Student Information Resources
- For program advising in the Faculty of Arts, contact the Arts Students Centre (ASC).
- For questions about admissions, student awards, common registration issues, financial aid and student fees, contact Enrolment Services
- Sometimes unexpected circumstances may affect your time table. You can change your registration during the course change period. Please see the Registration Changes and Exemption Requests page.

Attention history majors: History 300 is a required course for all history majors. You should normally take this course in your second year.

Writing
All written assignments and written exam responses are assessed partly on writing skills. Writing skills include surface correctness (grammar, punctuation, sentence structure, etc.) and general clarity and organization. Research papers must be properly documented according to the format described in The History Student’s Handbook.

Academic Misconduct
Academic Misconduct refers to student behavior which compromises proper assessment of a student’s academic activities and includes: cheating; fabrication; falsification; plagiarism; unauthorized assistance; failure to comply with an instructor’s expectations regarding conduct required of students completing academic assessments in their courses; and failure to comply with exam regulations applied by the Registrar.

For more information, please see the U of C Student Academic Misconduct Policy and Procedure documents, and visit the Academic Integrity Website.

Plagiarism
Plagiarism occurs when students submit or present the ideas and/or writing of others as if they were their own or when they submit their own work to two different classes. Please see The History Student’s Handbook for more details, but to summarize, plagiarism may take several forms:
- Failing to cite sources properly
- Submitting borrowed, purchased, and/or ghostwritten papers
- Submitting one's own work for more than one course without the permission of the instructor(s) involved
- Extensive paraphrasing of one or a few sources, even when referenced properly, unless the essay is a critical analysis of those works

Plagiarism is a serious academic offence, and written work that appears to contain plagiarized passages will not be graded. All such work will be reported to the Faculty of Art’s associate deans of students who will apply the penalties specified in the university calendar.

Academic Accommodation

It is the student’s responsibility to request academic accommodations according to the Student Accommodations policy. Students needing an accommodation based on disability or medical concerns should contact Student Accessibility Services (SAS) in accordance with the Procedure for Accommodations for Students with Disabilities. Students who require an accommodation in relation to their coursework based on a protected ground other than Disability should communicate this need in writing to their Instructor. SAS will process the request and issue letters of accommodation to instructors. For additional information on support services and accommodations for students with disabilities, visit Student Accessibility Services.

Research Ethics

If a student is interested in undertaking an assignment that will involve collecting information from members of the public, they should speak with the course instructor and consult the CFREB Ethics website before beginning the assignment.

Instructor Intellectual Property

Course materials created by instructors (including presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the instructor. These materials may NOT be reproduced, redistributed or copied without the explicit consent of the instructor. The posting of course materials to third party websites such as note-sharing sites without permission is prohibited. Sharing of extracts of these course materials with other students enrolled in the course at the same time may be allowed under fair dealing.

Copyright Legislation

All students are required to read the University of Calgary policy on Acceptable Use of Material Protected by Copyright and requirements of the Copyright Act to ensure they are aware of the consequences of unauthorised sharing of course materials (including instructor notes, electronic versions of textbooks etc.). Students who use material protected by copyright in violation of this policy may be disciplined under the Non-Academic Misconduct Policy.

Copyright of Educational Materials

The University of Calgary has opted out of the Access Copyright Interim Tariff proposed by the Copyright Board. Therefore, instructors in all University of Calgary courses will strictly adhere to Copyright Act regulations and the educational exceptions permitted by the Act for both print and digital course material. No copyrighted material may be placed on course D2L or websites without the prior permission of the copyright holders. In some cases, this may mean that instructors will require you to purchase a print course pack from the University of Calgary bookstore or consult books on reserve at the library. Please see the University of Calgary copyright page.
Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy
Student information will be collected in accordance with usual classroom practice. Students’ assignments will be accessible only by the authorized course faculty and teaching assistants. Private information related to the individual student is treated with the utmost regard.

Media Recording
The instructor may use media recordings to record the delivery of a lecture for various reasons, including lecture capture and self-assessment. Students will be informed of media recordings in advance and the recording device will be fixed on the instructor. In the event that incidental student participation is recorded, the instructor will ensure that any identifiable content (video or audio) is masked, or will seek consent from identifiable students, before making a recording available to the class.

Media Recording for the Assessment of Student Learning
The instructor may use media recordings as part of the assessment of students, by prior arrangement. This may include but is not limited to classroom discussions, presentations, clinical practice, or skills testing that occur during the course. These recordings will be used for student assessment purposes only and will not be shared or used for any other purpose.

Sexual Violence Policy
The University recognizes that all members of the University Community should be able to learn, work, teach and live in an environment where they are free from harassment, discrimination, and violence. The University of Calgary’s sexual violence policy guides us in how we respond to incidents of sexual violence, including supports available to those who have experienced or witnessed sexual violence, or those who are alleged to have committed sexual violence. It provides clear response procedures and timelines, defines complex concepts, and addresses incidents that occur off-campus in certain circumstances. Please see the sexual violence policy.
