

HTST 209 – THE HISTORY OF CHINA

Fall Session 2013

Tuesdays-Thursdays, 11:00-12:15 – ICT 121

Instructor: Brian Gold

Image sources: wikipedia

This course will provide an introductory survey of some main themes in Chinese history from the first dynasties to the present. There will be an emphasis on intellectual/religious, political, and economic history, focusing more on modern China. Often the history of China will be treated in a comparative perspective, where China's historical record is analyzed in terms of similarities and differences with regional or global history.

Required textbook: Wright, David C. The History of China. 2nd edition, 2011.