Description
This course offers a comparative study of totalitarian regimes in Italy, Germany, and the Soviet Union. Students will examine how and why Benito Mussolini, Adolf Hitler, and Joseph Stalin gained power and how each of them imposed and implemented their brutal reality upon their societies. The course will provide both a narrative and thematic framework in the analysis of totalitarian regimes. The major topics of concentration include the ideological foundations of totalitarianism, the establishment of dictatorships, totalitarian economies, personality cults, totalitarian propaganda, bio-politics, terror, world wars, the Holocaust, and the collapse of all three regimes. In the process, students will also consider how ordinary people perceived, reacted, and opposed these regimes. Finally, they will gain a broader understanding of the major political, social, and cultural developments of the twentieth century and evaluate the legacies of twentieth century totalitarianism in our contemporary world.

Learning Outcomes
By the end of the course, students should be able to distinguish key developments and turning points related to the Age of Totalitarianism, identify the central ideas, events, and people that have aided the rise of dictatorship in Europe, as well as explain the relationship of these terms to one another and establish their present-day significance. Students should be able to think critically about different definitions of totalitarianism and determine whether they are applicable to the dictatorships traditionally described as totalitarian. Finally, students will learn to analyze various primary sources in their historical context.

Details on Methods of Assessment

Documentary Analysis – October 12

25% of course grade

You will watch Triumph of the Will (1935) documentary. The link will be available on D2L. You will also pick three primary sources from our weekly readings. Your sources should have connection to the content of the documentary. You will then write an analytical essay tying the sources and the documentary into the material covered in the class. In your analysis you should focus on specific themes (e.g., “totalitarian propaganda”, “Nazism”, etc.). The Documentary Analysis should be at least four double-space pages. The complete assignment must be submitted electronically, on the course’s D2L Dropbox.
Midterm Exam – October 28
20% of course grade

1) ID Section (2 IDs – 20 points each): You will choose two terms (covering the in-class material to date) from a set of five and write a paragraph, explaining what the term means, to what time period it refers, and (most importantly) why it is significant. Your answers should be in complete and coherent sentences.

2) Short Essay Section (1 Essay – 60 points): You will select one essay topic from a choice of three. Your essay will be derived from the themes/questions discussed in the class to date. The essay length is at least 1 page.

Paper – November 28
25% of course grade

You will read Robert Gellately’s Backing Hitler: Consent and Coercion in Nazi Germany and write an analytical paper examining the themes of violence and consent, the role of media, and focus on national pride and law obedience in Nazi Germany. The Paper should be at least five double-space pages. The complete assignment must be submitted electronically, on the course’s D2L Dropbox. Only .doc, .docx, or .pdf formats will be accepted. Corrupt or inaccessible file will be treated as if it has not yet been handed it. You will be provided with more specific instructions on this assignment on D2L.

Final Exam
30% of course grade

3) ID Section (5 IDs – 10 points each): You will select five terms from a choice of eight and write a paragraph, explaining what the term means, to what time period or exact year it refers, and (most importantly) why it is significant. Your answers should be in complete and coherent sentences.

4) Short Essay Section (1 Essay – 50 points): You will select one essay topic from a choice of three. Your essay will be derived from the themes/questions discussed in the class after the Midterm Exam to date. The essay length is at least 1 page.

Learning Technologies Requirements
There is a D2L site for this course that contains weekly readings and other relevant class resources and materials. Documentary Analysis and Paper assignments must also be submitted on the course’s D2L Dropbox. Therefore, students will need reliable access to the following technology: internet access and a computer, tablet, or other device to access D2L.

Please Note: Students are expected to reach the grade range to receive that letter grade (ie. to receive an A- a student will have earned an 80 or 3.7 in the course). Assume that there will be no rounding up unless a faculty member announces otherwise.

Writing
All written assignments and written exam responses are assessed partly on writing skills. Writing skills include surface correctness (grammar, punctuation, sentence structure, etc.) and general clarity and organization. Research papers must be properly documented according to the format described in The History Student’s Handbook.

Academic Misconduct
Academic Misconduct refers to student behavior which compromises proper assessment of a student’s academic activities and includes: cheating; fabrication; falsification; plagiarism; unauthorized assistance; failure to comply with an instructor’s expectations regarding conduct required of students completing academic assessments in their courses; and failure to comply with exam regulations applied by the Registrar.

For more information, please see the University of Calgary Student Academic Misconduct Policy documents, and visit the Academic Integrity Website.
Plagiarism
Plagiarism occurs when students submit or present the ideas and/or writing of others as if they were their own or when they submit their own work to two different classes. Please see The History Student’s Handbook for more details, but to summarize, plagiarism may take several forms:

- Failing to cite sources properly
- Submitting borrowed, purchased, and/or ghostwritten papers
- Submitting one's own work for more than one course without the permission of the instructor(s) involved
- Extensive paraphrasing of one or a few sources, even when referenced properly, unless the essay is a critical analysis of those works

Plagiarism is a serious academic offence, and written work that appears to contain plagiarized passages will not be graded. All such work will be reported to the Faculty of Art’s associate deans of students who will apply the penalties specified in the university calendar.

Academic Accommodation
It is the student’s responsibility to request academic accommodations according to the Student Accommodations policy. Students needing an accommodation based on disability or medical concerns should contact Student Accessibility Services (SAS) in accordance with the Procedure for Accommodations for Students with Disabilities. Students who require an accommodation in relation to their coursework based on a protected ground other than Disability should communicate this need in writing to their Instructor.

SAS will process the request and issue letters of accommodation to instructors. For additional information on support services and accommodations for students with disabilities, visit Student Accessibility Services.

Research Ethics
Students are advised that any research with human participants – including any interviewing (even with friends and family), opinion polling, or unobtrusive observation – must have the approval of the Conjoint Faculties Research Ethics Board or the Conjoint Health Research Ethics Board. In completing course requirements, students must not undertake any human subjects research without discussing their plans with the instructor, to determine if ethics approval is required. Some courses will include assignments that involve conducting research with human participants; in these cases, the instructor will have applied for and received ethics approval for the course assignment. The instructor will discuss the ethical requirements for the assignment with the students.

Instructor Intellectual Property
Course materials created by instructors (including presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the instructor. These materials may NOT be reproduced, redistributed or copied without the explicit consent of the instructor. The posting of course materials to third party websites such as note-sharing sites without permission is prohibited. Sharing of extracts of these course materials with other students enrolled in the course at the same time may be allowed under fair dealing.
Copyright Legislation
All students are required to read the University of Calgary policy on Acceptable Use of Material Protected by Copyright and requirements of the Copyright Act to ensure they are aware of the consequences of unauthorised sharing of course materials (including instructor notes, electronic versions of textbooks etc.). Students who use material protected by copyright in violation of this policy may be disciplined under the Non-Academic Misconduct Policy.

Copyright of Educational Materials
The University of Calgary has opted out of the Access Copyright Interim Tariff proposed by the Copyright Board. Therefore, instructors in all University of Calgary courses will strictly adhere to Copyright Act regulations and the educational exceptions permitted by the Act for both print and digital course material. No copyrighted material may be placed on course D2L or web sites without the prior permission of the copyright holders. In some cases, this may mean that instructors will require you to purchase a print course pack from the University of Calgary bookstore or consult books on reserve at the library. Please see the University of Calgary copyright page.

Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy
Student information will be collected in accordance with usual classroom practice. Students’ assignments will be accessible only by the authorized course faculty and teaching assistants. Private information related to the individual student is treated with the utmost regard.

MEDIA RECORDING IN LEARNING ENVIRONMENTS

Media Recording for Study Purposes (Students)
Students who wish to audio record lectures for personal study purposes need to follow the guidelines outlined in Section E.6 of the University Calendar. Unless the audio recording of lectures is part of a student accessibility requirement, permission must be sought by the course instructor to audio record lectures.

Media recording for lesson capture
The instructor may use media recordings to capture the delivery of a lecture. These recordings are intended to be used for lecture capture only and will not be used for any other purpose. Recordings will be posted on D2L for student use and will normally be deleted at the end of term. Students are responsible for turning off their camera and/or microphone if they do not wish to be recorded.

Media recording for assessment of student learning
The instructor may use media recordings as part of the assessment of students. This may include but is not limited to classroom discussions, presentations, clinical practice, or skills testing that occur during the course. These recordings will be used for student assessment purposes only and will not be shared or used for any other purpose. The recording will be destroyed as specified by retention rule 2000.01 “Examinations and Student Assignments”.

Media recording for self-assessment of teaching practices
The instructor may use media recordings as a tool for self-assessment of their teaching practices. Although the recording device will be fixed on the instructor, it is possible that student participation in the course may be inadvertently captured. The recording will be destroyed as specified by retention rule 98.0011 “Draft Documents & Working Materials”.

Sexual Violence Policy
The University recognizes that all members of the University Community should be able to learn, work, teach and live in an environment where they are free from harassment, discrimination, and violence. The University of Calgary’s sexual violence policy guides us in how we respond to incidents of sexual violence, including supports available to those who have experienced or witnessed sexual violence, or those who are alleged to have committed sexual violence. It provides clear response procedures and timelines, defines complex concepts, and addresses incidents that occur off-campus in certain circumstances. Please see the sexual and gender-based violence policy.
