Course Description

What is the Canadian identity? Can there be a Canadian identity, or do we need to speak of Canadian identities? To what extent has Canada gone from an exclusive society to an inclusive society? What is multiculturalism and why was Canada the first nation to embrace a multicultural policy? Is Canada unique? This course seeks to explore these questions by addressing the issues of ethnicity, race, and immigration from the founding of New France until the present day. Some of the topics that will be discussed are: the attempts to build a Catholic society in New France, the creation of the habitant, continuity and change in French-English relations; the Black Loyalists; sectarian divisions between British Protestants and Irish Catholics; the Asian-Canadian experience; the acceptance/non-acceptance of refugees; the birth of multicultural Canada; and the Quebec Charter of Values, just to name a few.

Assignments and Evaluation

Assignments must be handed in before class on the due date and students have to attend the exams at the appointed times. All assignments and exams must be completed in order to successfully complete this course. Accommodations will only be made for students under special circumstances.
Mid – Term Examination – February 14 (Percentage of Grade, 20%)

The mid-term examination will be based on the lectures and required readings. The exam will consist of identifying and explaining the significance of important figures, events and themes as well as short essay questions.

Primary Source Analysis – Date Due, March 7 (Percentage of Grade, 20%)

Students will analyze a primary source. Detailed instructions will be provided on D2L. The sources to be analyzed are listed in the Appendix. The analysis must be 5 – 7 pages in length, double spaced, and Times New Roman (12 point font) should be used.

Essay – Date Due, March 28 (Percentage of Grade, 30%)

Students will write an essay based on a theme or subject discussed in this course. Students must use at least 10 secondary sources (scholarly monographs or articles). The essay must be 8 – 10 pages in length, double spaced, and Times New Roman (12 point font) should be used. Detailed instructions and a short list of useful secondary sources will be provided on D2L.

Final Exam – Date Scheduled by the Registrar (Percentage of Grade, 30%)

The examination will consist of identifying and stating the significance of important figures, events and themes as well as long essay questions. The material for this exam will be based on the lectures and required reading of the course.

Submitting Assignments and Policy for Late Assignments

All assignments should be given to the instructor on the due date in class. Late assignments will be downgraded one-half letter grade for every day late, meaning, a paper that would have received a B if not late will be given a grade of B- if one day late.

Electronic Devices

It is expected that all cell phones will be turned off during class and that students who bring computers and lap tops to class will use them for taking notes only.

Lectures and Assigned Readings

It is vital to read the assigned readings before class in order to be prepared for the lectures. The readings will also provide the context needed to prepare for, and write, the primary source analysis as well as the essay. Students must read two articles per week – one of which is required reading. All required readings are in bold.

Plagiarism:

Plagiarism occurs when one submits or presents one’s work in a course, or ideas and/or passages in a written piece of work, as if it were one’s own work done expressly for that particular course, when, in fact, it is not. As noted in The History Student’s Handbook (http://hist.ucalgary.ca/sites/hist.ucalgary.ca/files/history_students_handbook_2015.pdf), plagiarism may take several forms:

- Failure to cite sources properly may be considered plagiarism. This could include quotations, and wording used from another source but not acknowledged.
- Borrowed, purchased, and/or ghostwritten papers are considered plagiarism, as is submitting one's own work for more than one course without the permission of the instructor(s) involved.
- Extensive paraphrasing of one or a few sources is also considered plagiarism, even when notes are used, unless the essay is a critical analysis of those works.
- The use of notes does not justify the sustained presentation of another author’s language and ideas as one’s own.

Plagiarism is a serious academic offence and written work that appears to contain plagiarized passages will not be graded. All such work will be reported to the Faculty of Arts’ associate deans of students who will apply the penalties specified in the University of Calgary Calendar.

Universal Student Ratings of Instruction (USRI):

At the University of Calgary, feedback provided by students through the Universal Student Ratings of Instruction survey provides valuable information to help with evaluating instruction, enhancing learning
