HTST 397.02 - History of the Middle East (Spring 2017)

Instructor: Shaiel Ben-Ephraim

Office: Social Sciences Building 613 (Seminar Room)

Email: smbeneph@ucalgary.ca

Website: <https://d21.ucalgary.ca>

Class Location: ES 054

Time: Tues/ Thurs. 12:00-14:45

Office Hours: Thursday 9:00-11:00

Course Description

The Middle East has gone from being one of the most stable and tranquil areas on the globe in the Ottoman era, to one of the most troubled areas on earth. The course will focus on the process by which traditional political patterns were replaced with attempts to bring modern political institutions to the region. Some of these attempts were successful while others failed miserably. The course will attempt to analyze and explain these differing outcomes.

The course will analyze the history of the Middle East from the late-nineteenth century until the present. The history of Egypt, Turkey, Iran, the Levant and the Arabian Peninsula will be surveyed, and the course will cover the reforms in Egypt and the Ottoman and Empire; the impact of Western imperialism and, following decolonization, the extent and nature of Western involvement in the region; the emergence of nationalism and formation of independent states; the development of the Arab-Israel conflict and the undoing of the state system in the region from the “Arab spring” to the rise of ISIS. Throughout this course we will examine the current situation in the Middle East and examine the historical background of contemporary developments.

Required Textbooks

William L. Cleveland & Martin Bunton, A History of the Modern Middle East (Boulder, CO: Westview Press, 2016).

Marvin E. Gettleman & Stuart Schaar, The Middle East and Islamic World Reader: An Historical Reader for the 21st Century (New York: Grove Press, 2012).

Grade Distribution

Mid Term 30%. In class on June 6

Research Essay 30%. Due in class on June 27

Final Exam 40%. Final Exam. Specific date TBD by the Registrar's office (June 28-30)

Preparations

Important information and additional readings for this course are posted on D2L. Students should regularly check the Announcements section of D2L for ongoing notices. Your instructor may not necessarily cover all of the materials in the chapter, but it is the responsibility of the student to understand the concepts presented in the readings and lectures. If you are unsure of any of the concepts, please take the initiative to ask the instructor during class.

Class Participation

Lectures focus on the material presented in the readings and general discussion relating to the topic(s) outlined in the lecture schedule. Students are expected to read the assigned readings before class, and be prepared for class discussion. Active participation and thoughtful engagement in classroom activities is an important part of gaining a deeper understanding of the course content.

Research Essay

You are required to write a 2500-3000 word paper (not including endnotes/footnotes and the bibliography) on a significant historic event occurring during the period covered in class in the Middle East. The paper must be divided into the following sections.

1. What is the research question?
2. What is your main thesis?
3. What are the main approaches to your question?
4. Discussion
5. Conclusion

Your paper is expected to be analytical (not descriptive), well-structured and correctly formatted (12 point font, one-inch margins with consistent citation). Your thesis must be clearly stated, concise and engaging. The arguments used are expected to be logical, and balanced (multiple perspectives) and supported by evidence that is accurate, relevant and verifiable (properly cited). Your writing should be articulate, grammatically correct and error free. The research for your paper should be robust (7+ sources beyond required readings). For further information on expectations for the paper refer to the History Student Handbook:

http://hist.ucalgary.ca/sites/hist.ucalgary.ca/files/history_students_handbook_2015.pdf

Submission Requirements and Late Penalty

All papers must be submitted to the instructor in class on the assigned due date. Email submissions will not be accepted. Papers submitted under the instructor's office door will not be accepted. The penalty for late submissions will be 5% per day including weekends and statutory holidays.

Examination

Midterm

The midterm examination will consist of multiple-choice and short answers. It will cover all lectures, assigned readings, and supplementary materials up to the date of the exam.

Final

The cumulative examination will consist of short answer and essay questions. It will cover all lectures, assigned readings, and supplementary materials for the entire semester.

Contacting your Instructor

Students requiring assistance are encouraged to speak to their instructor during class or during their office hours.

Should you wish to meet with the instructor outside of office hours, please email the instructor to make an appointment. It is to the student's advantage to keep such appointments.

Policy on the use of Electronic Devices

The use of laptops in class is allowed but strictly for taking notes. This privilege should not be abused. Avoid playing Youtube clips or looking at pictures on Facebook/Instagram as this distracts other students. The instructor reserves the right to forbid certain students from using laptops in class. All other electronic devices, in particular the use of cellphones, are strictly banned.

Writing:

This course will include written assignments. Faculty policy directs that all written assignments (including, although to a lesser extent, written exam responses) will be assessed at least partly on writing skills. Writing skills include not only surface correctness (grammar, punctuation, sentence structure, etc.) but also general clarity and organization. Research papers must be properly documented.

Writing Support:

Students are also encouraged to use Writing Support Services and other Student Success Centre Services, located on the 3rd floor of the Taylor Family Digital Library (TFDL). Writing Support Services assist with a variety of assignments, from essays to lab reports. Students can book 30-minute one-on-one appointments online, sign up for 15-minute drop-in appointments, and register for a variety of writing workshops. For more information on this and other Student Success Centre services, please visit www.ucalgary.ca/ssc.

Copyright:

The University of Calgary has opted out of the Access Copyright Interim Tariff proposed by the Copyright Board. This means that instructors in all University of Calgary courses will strictly adhere to Copyright Act regulations and the educational exceptions permitted by the Act for both print and digital course material. What this simply means is that no copyrighted material may be placed on course D2L or web sites without the prior permission of the copyright holders. In some cases, this may mean that instructors will require you to purchase a print course pack from the University of Calgary bookstore or that you will have to consult books on reserve at the library. For more information on the University of Calgary's copyright policy, see <http://library.ucalgary.ca/copyright>.

Red Box Policy:

Essays and other assignments may be handed in to the red box located outside of the History Department office (Social Sciences, Room 656). Please include the following information on your assignment: 1) course name and number, 2) instructor, 3) your name and 4) your student number. Assignments received after 4:00 p.m. will be date stamped with the date of the next business day. We do not time stamp any papers. Please do not bring your paper into the office to be stamped. The box is emptied promptly at 8:30 a.m. and at 4:00 p.m. Monday to Friday.

50-55	D	1.00
0-49	F	0	Fail—unsatisfactory performance or failure to meet course requirements.

Plagiarism:

Plagiarism occurs when one submits or presents one's work in a course, or ideas and/or passages in a written piece of work, as if it were one's own work done expressly for that particular course, when, in fact, it is not. As noted in The History Student's Handbook (http://hist.ucalgary.ca/sites/hist.ucalgary.ca/files/history_students_handbook_2015.pdf), plagiarism may take several forms:

- Failure to cite sources properly may be considered plagiarism. This could include quotations, and wording used from another source but not acknowledged.
- Borrowed, purchased, and/or ghostwritten papers are considered plagiarism, as is submitting one's own work for more than one course without the permission of the instructor(s) involved.
- Extensive paraphrasing of one or a few sources is also considered plagiarism, even when notes are used, unless the essay is a critical analysis of those works.
- The use of notes does not justify the sustained presentation of another author's language and ideas as one's own.

Plagiarism is a serious academic offence and written work that appears to contain plagiarized passages will not be graded. All such work will be reported to the Faculty of Arts' associate deans of students who will apply the penalties specified in the University of Calgary Calendar.

Universal Student Ratings of Instruction (USRI):

At the University of Calgary, feedback provided by students through the Universal Student Ratings of Instruction survey provides valuable information to help with evaluating instruction, enhancing learning and teaching, and selecting courses (www.ucalgary.ca/usri). Your responses make a difference. Please participate in USRI surveys.

Student Accommodations:

Students seeking an accommodation based on disability or medical concerns should contact Student Accessibility Services (SAS). The SAS will process the request and issue letters of accommodation to instructors. For additional information on support services and accommodations for students with disabilities, visit www.ucalgary.ca/access/.

Students who require an accommodation in relation to their coursework based on a protected grounds other than disability should communicate this need in writing to their Instructor.

The full policy on Student Accommodations is available at <http://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/student-accommodation-policy.pdf>
