Politics, Religion, and Culture in Early Modern Europe

In this course we will examine four themes in the history of early modern Europe, all loosely connected with the broader areas of religion, politics and culture: 1) the nature of late medieval religion; 2) the social impact of the Reformation; 3) religious violence, co-existence, and community; 4) the theory and practise of absolutism. Students will be expected to complete weekly reading assignments and participate in class discussions. To that end, each student will complete a one-page précis (250 words maximum) of one of that week’s readings of the student’s choice. There will be no précis for the week of March 15. Students will also be responsible for an oral presentation in which they will present an assigned book to the rest of the class. There will be three written assignments of approximately 12 pages each. The grade for the course will be determined in the following manner:

The following books are required reading and are available for purchase in the bookstore:

- John Bossy, Christianity in the West, 1400-1700
- Natalie Z. Davis, Society and Culture in Early Modern France
- Barbara Diefendorf, Beneath the Cross: Catholics and Huguenots in Sixteenth-Century Paris
- Steven Ozment, The Reformation in the Cities

Students who require additional background in the areas studied are invited to consult with the professor or to consult the many general treatments in the library, including:

- Richard Bonney, The European Dynastic States, 1494-1660
- Euan Cameron, The European Reformation
- De Lamar Jensen, Reformation Europe
- Mark Konnert, Early Modern Europe: the Age of Religious Wars, 1559-1715
Roger Lockyer, Habsburg and Bourbon Europe, 1477-1720

Recent changes to the way the university handles copyright issues have resulted in many complications for this course. Where permitted, I have included links to the relevant readings. Others are available through D2L. I have also put on reserve in the library a copy of all books from which readings have been selected. You are permitted to make one copy of anything for your own personal use, but I am not allowed to provide a copy to you.

ASSIGNMENTS

Each week (except March 15) students must turn in a one-page précis (250 words maximum) of one of that week’s readings of their choice. There is no precis required for the week of March 15.

In their in-class presentations, students will present to the class the contents and conclusions of one of the books listed for student presentations. This presentation must take no longer than 20 minutes, and must not be read. Students will be expected to present the book’s major conclusions, its methods, source material, possible biases, and its situation in and contribution to the general field. Students should pay special attention to contribution the book makes to the topics discussed in class. In addition, students will prepare a 1-page précis of their presentation to be copied and distributed to their colleagues to aid in the writing of the papers. This must be circulated to the instructor and the rest of the class at least 24 hours in advance of the class.

Students will also write papers on their choice of three of the four modules of the course: 1) the nature of late medieval religion; 2) the social impact of the Reformation; 3) religious violence, co-existence, and community; and 4) the theory and practice of absolutism. These papers are to be 10-12 pages long and are to analyse and synthesize the materials read and discussed in class, including the books presented by students. You will be expected to discuss the different approaches to the topics, the major themes appropriate to each topic, the strengths and weaknesses of different approaches and theses, as well as giving your sense of the state of research on each topic.

Papers on module 1 will be due on Wednesday February 15, those on module 2 on March 15, those on module 3 on March 29, and those on module 4 on April 19.

Late papers will be penalized by 1/3 of a grade per day unless an extension is granted prior to the due date. Written assignments must conform to The History Student’s Handbook or The Chicago Manual of Style. The History Student’s Handbook is available online at http://hist.ucalgary.ca/sites/hist.ucalgary.ca/files/EssayHandbook1.pdf

Important Departmental, Faculty, and University Information

Faculty of Arts Program Advising and Student Information Resources:

- Have a question, but not sure where to start? The Arts Students Centre is your information resource for everything in Arts! Drop in at SS110, call 403-220-3580, or email artsads@ucalgary.ca. Writing:

This course will include written assignments. Faculty policy directs that all written assignments (including, although to a lesser extent, written exam responses) will be assessed at least partly on writing skills. Writing skills include not only surface correctness (grammar, punctuation, sentence structure, etc.) but also general clarity and organization. Research papers must be properly documented.
Writing Support:
Students are also encouraged to use Writing Support Services and other Student Success Centre Services, located on the 3rd floor of the Taylor Family Digital Library. Writing Support Services assist with a variety of assignments, from essays to lab reports. Students can book 30-minute one-on-one appointments online, sign up for 15-minute drop-in appointments, and register for a variety of writing workshops. For more information on this and other Student Success Centre services, please visit www.ucalgary.ca/ssc.

Copyright:
The University of Calgary has opted out of the Access Copyright Interim Tariff proposed by the Copyright Board. This means that instructors in all University of Calgary courses will strictly adhere to Copyright Act regulations and the educational exceptions permitted by the Act for both print and digital course material. What this simply means is that no copyrighted material may be placed on course D2L or web sites without the prior permission of the copyright holders. In some cases, this may mean that instructors will require you to purchase a print course pack from the University of Calgary bookstore or that you will have to consult books on reserve at the library. For more information on the University of Calgary’s copyright policy, see http://library.ucalgary.ca/copyright.

Red Box Policy:
Essays and other assignments may be handed in to the red box located outside of the History Department office (SS 656). Please include the following information on your assignment: course name and number, instructor, your name and your student number. Assignments received after 4:00 p.m. will be date stamped with the date of the next business day. We do not time stamp any papers. Please do not bring your paper into the office to be stamped. The box is emptied promptly at 8:30 a.m. and at 4:00 p.m. Monday to Friday.

Departmental Grading System:
The following percentage-to-letter grade conversion scheme has been adopted for use in all Canadian Studies, History, and Latin American Studies courses.

Plagiarism:

Plagiarism occurs when one submits or presents one’s work in a course, or ideas and/or passages in a written piece of work, as if it were one’s own work done expressly for that particular course, when, in fact, it is not. As noted in The History Student’s Handbook (http://hist.ucalgary.ca/sites/hist.ucalgary.ca/files/history_students_handbook_2015.pdf), plagiarism may take several forms:

- Failure to cite sources properly may be considered plagiarism. This could include quotations, and wording used from another source but not acknowledged.
- Borrowed, purchased, and/or ghostwritten papers are considered plagiarism, as is submitting one's own work for more than one course without the permission of the instructor(s) involved.
- Extensive paraphrasing of one or a few sources is also considered plagiarism, even when notes are used, unless the essay is a critical analysis of those works.
- The use of notes does not justify the sustained presentation of another author’s language and ideas as one’s own.

Plagiarism is a serious academic offence and written work that appears to contain plagiarized passages will not be graded. All such work will be reported to the Faculty of Arts’ associate deans of students who will apply the penalties specified in the University of Calgary Calendar.
Universal Student Ratings of Instruction:
At the University of Calgary, feedback provided by students through the Universal Student Ratings of Instruction (USRI) survey provides valuable information to help with evaluating instruction, enhancing learning and teaching, and selecting courses (www.ucalgary.ca/usri). Your responses make a difference. Please participate in USRI Surveys.

Student Accommodations:
Students seeking an accommodation based on disability or medical concerns should contact Student Accessibility Services; SAS will process the request and issue letters of accommodation to instructors. For additional information on support services and accommodations for students with disabilities, visit www.ucalgary.ca/access/.

Students who require an accommodation in relation to their coursework based on a protected grounds other than disability should communicate this need in writing to their Instructor.

The full policy on Student Accommodations is available at http://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/student-accommodation-policy.pdf
