HTST 535 is a senior-level seminar that will employ a multidisciplinary approach to the study of American foreign relations since 1914. Students will examine the sources of continuity and elements of change in American diplomatic history. Over the course, we will examine both the process of foreign policy formulation as well as the way in which historians and other scholars interpret American foreign relations. We will evaluate the role of individuals, groups, institutions, and publics in the process on foreign policy formulation but also use different methodological approaches, like culture, ideology, and the gendering of people and nations.

Course objectives:
By the end of this course, successful students will be expected to:
- Explain the key developments in United States foreign policy since 1914
- Critically read and assess primary and secondary literature and situate arguments within broader historical debates
- Debate historical problems by engaging with other students and scholarship
- Develop research, writing, and analytical skills through historical inquiry
- Communicate their ideas and understandings in written work and class discussion

Essay Assignment:
This class has a 12-15 page (including bibliography and endnotes/footnotes) essay assignment due on any subject covered by the time-period of this class and should include primary source material. Papers are expected to be typed and double-spaced using standard fonts and margins and should conform to the standards identified in the Department of History’s Essay Writing Guide. The Essay Writing Guide can be purchased at the University of Calgary bookstore or a copy is available online at the Department of History’s Website (http://hist.ucalgary.ca/).

General comment on sources for written assignments: When students submit a written assignment that calls for the use of external materials, bear in mind that it is expected that academic sources will be consulted. These include scholarly journal articles, books, and sources – not encyclopedia, survey textbooks, or notes from in-class lectures.

The essay will be graded on the following criteria:

- Organization: Are the ideas in the paper organized efficiently? Does the argument flow logically and coherently?

- Writing style/Editing: How is the paper written? Are there any issues with passive voice, punctuation, tense agreements? Does the paper require any editing, better word choices? Does each page have a number? This section will also evaluate adherence to footnote/endnote conventions as well as the structure of the bibliography and proper essay formatting.

- Quality of Research: Evaluates both the sources consulted and their appropriateness for the subject as well as the extent to which those sources are used in writing the paper.

- Originality/Quality of analysis: Does the paper present a standard interpretation/narrative or does it strive to go beyond the basic narrative to assess and analyze the material under consideration? Generally speaking, the better the analysis, the better the paper

Writing:
All written assignments and written exam responses are assessed partly on writing skills. Writing skills include surface correctness (grammar, punctuation, sentence structure, etc.) and general clarity and organization. Research papers must be properly referenced.

Red Box Policy:
Essays and other assignments may be dropped into the red box located outside of the History Department office (Social Sciences, Room 656). Please include the following information on your assignment: 1) course name and number, 2) instructor, 3) your name, and 4) your student number. Assignments received after 4:00 p.m. are date stamped the next business day. We do not time stamp any papers. Please do not bring your paper into the office to be stamped. The box is emptied at 4:00 p.m. Monday to Friday.

Plagiarism:
Plagiarism occurs when one submits or presents one’s work in a course, or ideas and/or passages in a written piece of work, as if it were one’s own work done expressly for that particular course, when, in fact, it is not. As noted in The History Student’s Handbook https://hist.ucalgary.ca/sites/hist.ucalgary.ca/files/history-students-handbook-2019.pdf

Plagiarism may take several forms:
- Failing to cite sources properly
- Submitting borrowed, purchased, and/or ghostwritten papers
- Submitting one’s own work for more than one course without the permission of the instructor(s) involved
- Extensive paraphrasing of one or a few sources, even when referenced properly, unless the essay is a critical analysis of those works

- Using notes does not justify the sustained presentation of another author’s language and ideas as one’s own

Plagiarism is a serious academic offence and written work that appears to contain plagiarized passages will not be graded. All such work is reported to the Faculty of Arts’ associate deans of students who will apply the penalties specified in the University of Calgary Calendar, Section K.
